

IMPORTANT MINERAL FIND MADE ON 1800 LEVEL TONOPAH EX.

The most important development recorded during the week at the property of the Tonopah Extension Mining company was announced from the 1802 crosscut of the Victor shaft which picked up the Anchor vein west of the dyke at the Cash Boy rhyolite. Six feet of ore of a splendid grade was encountered, and while no assay values were announced, the discovery is known to be of great importance. Drifting has since been started, and the outlook is most promising for sensational developments following.

The physical condition of the mine is reported to be splendid, and a heavy tonnage of ore is being broken in a number of workings on the 1800 level. Development for the past week consisted of 256 feet, according to the official report for the week ending February 10, which follows:

McKane Shaft.
1200 Level—1203 crosscut was continued in Extension breccia.
1540 Level—1502 crosscut was continued in caliche andesite. Work on pump station made good progress.

Victor Shaft.
1600 Intermediate Level—No. 1 east drift, Merger vein, advanced 22 feet on low-grade quartz. Stopping is in progress on Merger vein.
1680 Level—Stopping is in progress on the Murray, Merger and Deming veins.
1760 Level—1717 crosscut advanced 34 feet in West End rhyolite. 1708 east intermediate drift advanced 16 feet on 5 feet of ore. 1713 west intermediate drift advanced 34 feet on 4 feet of ore. Stopping is in progress on the Murray and Merger veins.

1880 Level—1800 west intermediate drift, Merger vein, was continued on 4 feet of low-grade ore. 1803 west drift, Murray vein, footwall branch, advanced 20 feet on 5 feet of ore. 1806 west drift, Murray vein, hanging wall branch, advanced 25 feet on 6 feet of ore. 1803 raise advanced 21 feet on 4 feet of ore. 1803 crosscut was resumed. 1802 crosscut picked up the Anchor vein west of the dyke of the Cash Boy rhyolite, showing 6 feet of ore of very good grade. A drift is being started on this ore. Stopping is in progress on the Merger and Anchor veins.

THE SPORT.

MY BOY, it's the end of the season—
Your campstake you've got in your clothes;
It isn't much use fer to reason
With you, I suppose.
I know how the dollars are burnin'
A hole in your pocket right now;
You'll blow 'em—what use to be leavin'!

A lumberjack how?
They're waitin' down there fer you, brother;
The barkeep is loadin' the gin;
Each guy has some game or another
Fer takin' you in.
The dames that are plastered an' painted
Are puttin' on powder fer fair—
The ladies whose kisses are tainted
Are waitin' you there.

I've been through the mill, an' I know it—
I know jest the fool that you are;
Oh, you'll be a sport, an' you'll throw it
In gobs on the bar.
It's "Drinks fer the house!" you'll be yellin';
The buns will be there to partake,
They'll laugh at the stories you're tellin',
An' gobble your stake.

While you have been pullin' a briar,
With huns an' cow-belly to chew,
The grafters have set by the fire
A-waitin' fer you—
The streak up their backs it is yellah,
An' life without work is the rule;
They'll say you're a prince of a feilah,
An' think you're a fool.

So work like a dog in the winter,
An' set like an ass in the spring;
Some guy with a jack-knife an' splinter
Will say you're a king.
It's blood, an' it's bone, an' it's muscle,
You're throwin' up there on the bar;
Next week fer a job you kin rustle,
The fool that you are.

Oh, yes, they all think he's the candy.
A sport, a good fellow, who spends;
I hope, when they say you're a dandy,
You're proud of your friends.
When you know jest how little there's
In it,
Will you hand out your good money still?
When you know they're but friends
for a minute?
You probably will.

Doing Away With Excess.

"Bud Yaw, that runs the store at the crossroads is an easy-going fellow," related a citizen of Sandy Mush, "but he met his match rather day when I was there, settin' around. Bud was stretched out on the counter, half asleep, with a bolt of calico under his head, when he came a big fat drummer that he was some acquainted with. 'Howdy, Bud?' says the drummer. 'Dadburn it, howdy, Jerry?' grumbled Bud. 'Say, can't you just as well come around some time when I'm standing up?' 'Not necessary,' says the drummer. 'I've got a little proposition in plug tobacco. Lay over, and I'll whipper it to you.'—San Francisco Argonaut.
